

To Shareholders of Wi-SKY Inflight, Inc.:

Because we have not been presented with any reasonable settlement options, we are pushing forward with litigation. Our litigation process appears to be headed for a prolonged battle considering the number of parties and nature of claims involved. Our attorneys remain optimistic about the eventual favorable outcome once we get to the stage of a jury trial. Although the duration of this process is unpredictable at this time, our attorneys are pressing forward aggressively, and I will continue to provide you with updates periodically.

In view of the anticipated length of litigation, the minimal trading opportunity and the recurring monthly expense of maintaining a listing on the Frankfurt stock exchange, we have decided to let our listing expire effective Monday May 16th.

We will re-list the stock when the litigation is resolved.

The company will issue paper stock certificates to replace the electronic shares surrendered in the de-listing process. To accomplish this, all current shareholders are invited to send your latest brokerage statement showing the balance of shares in your account. The brokerage statement should be accompanied with the following information for our stock records and is required for us to be able to issue paper stock certificates:

- Shareholder's name to issue the certificate _____
- Shareholder's mailing address _____

- Shareholder's email address _____
- Shareholder's phone information (optional) _____
- Date(s) on which shares were acquired _____
- Number of Shares _____

Shareholders who have not yet received shares in a brokerage account (purchased through private investment in the company) should provide the same information as above, but do not need to provide a brokerage statement.

Please email the above information to info@wi-skyinflight.com. Please include a scanned copy of your latest brokerage account statement. You may also fax this information and your brokerage statement to 404-591-7938. If you prefer to mail this information, you can send it to:

ANNUAL MEETING: Please reserve June 8 for the annual shareholder meeting. An agenda and proxy vote information will be distributed prior to the meeting.
